

My room

- List all the activities you do in your bedroom. What else could you do in this space? What if everything was taken out of your bedroom, what other activities could take place?
- Cover part of your bedroom floor with a blanket/sheet to create a landscape. Use anything else you have in your bedroom to add in human and physical features such as villages, towns, rivers, valleys, woodland, beaches, etc. Use a small figure/Lego toy to explore your landscape, what challenges would your character face if they travelled through your landscape? Why are they there? What are they doing? Who have they met? Watch this video for an example.
- Time for some Literacy! Use separate small squares of paper or post-it notes to write a sentence to describe each room in your house. Place the post-its/paper together in an order that flows well. Use these to write a poem about your house.

What if...

You could make a 'place capsule'. This is like a time capsule but tells the finder all about the place (room). What items would you place in the capsule to represent each room in your house?
